Dear friends,

You are warmly invited...

... to join us at the Church in Eccles for services in the church building from Sunday 1 November 2020. After more than seven months, we are delighted to be reopening our doors. This letter sets out some of the measures that have been put in place to ensure we can gather safely; everything you'll need to know about attending a service; and the options available if you're not yet ready to gather in person.

What will be different (and what will be the same)?

As usual, we'll be holding services on Sundays at 10.30am. Many services will be led by a range of ministers and Local Preachers, with some Local Arrangements. Services will be shorter than usual (probably around 30 minutes). Although we won't be able to sing, our services will still include music in other ways. Services will necessarily look and feel very different in the immediate future, but we are confident that it will still be possible to worship together 'in spirit and in truth'!

On arrival, we ask that you enter through the front door of the church. There will be stickers on the floor to enable you to queue safely before entering the building and a welcome steward to help you to sanitise your hands as you enter the church. All those attending worship will need to wear a face covering, unless they are under 11 or otherwise exempt (more details below) – but don't worry if you forget, as a small number of spare masks will be available. The welcome steward will tick your name off a list if we have your contact details on file, and ask for your contact details if not; these will be held on file for 21 days, in accordance with the Government's 'Test and Trace' programme. Please let the welcome steward know if you have any additional needs. You'll be able to sit with others from your household but will need to maintain a two-metre distance from others. The chairs have been spaced out accordingly, so please do not rearrange them. The front door will remain open before and after the service, and the windows will be open during the service for ventilation, so you may wish to bring an additional layer or two!

During and after the service, we sadly won't be able to provide refreshments (so you may wish to bring your own bottle of water). After the service, you will be asked to exit through the front door, sanitising your hands as you leave. Sadly, it is not possible under the current restrictions to share fellowship as we usually would; instead, you are asked to leave as promptly as possible, and to have any necessary conversations outside the church, with social distancing and in groups of no more than six.

We won't be passing round an offering plate; instead, there will be a plate at the entrance and exit, if you would like to make your offering in cash or by envelope. If you haven't already done so, you might like to consider switching your regular giving to standing order.

After the service, we'll clean surfaces that have been touched, paying particular attention to the toilets, where we share space with the preschool.

What do I need to do?

I am enormously grateful to all those who have worked hard to prepare the church for reopening and to complete our risk assessment, or who have volunteered for additional roles while the restrictions are in place. But in order for us to gather safely, each of us has a vital role to play.

First, if you or a member of your household has COVID-19 or any symptoms of the virus, we ask that you do not attend a service at church.

Second, in accordance with Government requirements, you are asked to wear a face covering at all times while in the church building. There are certain exemptions (based on age and physical and mental wellbeing); all the details can be found here: <https://tinyurl.com/facecoveringexemptions>

Third, we ask you to maintain physical distancing (2m wherever possible) while in the church building.

And finally, we ask that you follow the directions of the welcome steward, who will be on hand to help you and answer any questions.

What if I'm not ready?

We fully understand that, for a variety of reasons, many people will not feel comfortable attending a public act of worship at this time, and so the circuit will continue providing a weekly online service for the foreseeable future. We will also continue to hold our fortnightly dial-in service, at which it is always lovely to hear voices from Eccles. Whether you worship in a church building or at home, both are equally valid expressions of 'church' and you will continue to be a valued member of our church family.

I know that you will all give careful thought to your own safety, that of your household, and that of the rest of the church family before deciding whether or not to attend a service at church. Information about the new 'Three Tier' system, and the implications of living in a 'Medium' area, can be found here: <https://tinyurl.com/stayalertandsafe>. For those who would usually offer or receive a lift to church, advice on travelling safely can be found here: <https://tinyurl.com/traveltochurch>

Careful work has been carried out on our church's risk assessment; this work has been scrutinised and approved by the Church Council. If you would find it helpful to see the risk assessment, or if you have any questions about the measures that have been put in place to keep us all safe, please don't hesitate to be in touch with me. We will keep a careful eye on the restrictions, and let you know of any changes.

We are hoping to hold an act of remembrance at the war memorial on Sunday 8 November (in place of our morning service at the church). We are currently awaiting permission from the Parish Council and will be in touch next week with further details.

Since we last gathered for worship in March, it often feels as if the world has changed beyond recognition. It has been a time of unexpected blessings – from the live-streamed services that have regularly reached 300+ households, to the fortnightly dial-in services helping us to connect with friends from Larkfield, Tonbridge Road and Burham. But we recognise that, for so many, this time of physical separation has been one of grief and loss. So as we prepare for a future that includes a richer array of opportunities to worship in person, online and by phone, we give thanks that we are a resurrection people, and that God will bring us through this period of grief into the joy of new life. As always, we praise God for all that is past, and trust him for all that's to come.

Every blessing,

The Revd Naomi Oates
