

He has the whole world in his hands.

We have prayed long and hard for healing of God's creation. While we are in the darkest of clouds from COVID-19, clouds that have covered the world and sent fear and panic into our hearts. There is evidence that the earth is healing. It has even been said that 'coronavirus is the vaccine to humans that are the virus' Ever since people have been in lockdown nature and its elements are beginning to flourish.

With the decrease in water traffic dolphins are playing in the Arabian Sea; they have also returned to the canals of Venice. Ducks are in the fountain in Rome, Swans and fishes are swimming in the cleaner waters of Italy – now the epicentre of this Virus. People are on lock down. Nature is reclaiming its spaces.

One of the most polluted cities in India, Delhi, is now witnessing a drop in air pollution, and the temperature has significantly fallen. Likewise air pollution has dropped in the cities of China.

All countries globally are working together to curb the pandemic. Have we realised, at last, that national boundaries are artificial? And that we actually need to be there for one another! The pandemic pays no regard to gender, religion, colour, age, or any other division we have put in place. As I write this news has been announced that Prince Charles has tested positive. This virus has no respect for status or money. We are all in this together.

Can we hope that the coronavirus continues to unite the globe, making us better human-beings? Can we find the silver-lining amidst the dark clouds of COVID-19? Do we truly trust that God is in this?

So until Love and respect burn out these dark clouds and the true colours of nature are displayed in the rainbow. STAY AT HOME spend the time doing things that make you smile, live each moment for God has given them to you. Let the Earth Heal and pray humanity learns this valuable lesson.

Lynne